

Living and leading WITH INSIGHT

The difference between success and frustration

There is one thing that I rate above all other leadership attributes and that is the need for leaders to lead with INSIGHT. To have the ability to see past the so-called obvious and see what is really happening. If we don't operate with INSIGHT we will lead with constant frustration, revisiting the same things over and over again. Des will take us on a journey of how we can introduce and practice INSIGHT in our personal and professional lives. Don't miss this inspirational presentation.
