MULTI-SESSION PROGRAM

LEADERSHIP SPEAK

How To Become An Inspirational Presenter And Communicator

2025

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

“Your Leadership is demonstrated when speaking and the way you communicate will make or break your credibility now and into the future.”

- Proteus Mantra

The ability to craft communication and presentations that are compelling has always been a critical skill for leaders to develop.

Whether you need to pitch a persuasive argument to your executive, sell change to your staff or colleagues, inform people to inspire action, present a message from the heart, deliver a workshop, or to represent your company through a keynote – leaders are expected to do these things exceptionally well.

However, in our highly distracted digital world it has become even harder for leaders to cut through all the noise with messages that stick.

Leadership Speak has been designed to assist leaders to become exceptional communicators and presenters who capture people's minds and hearts within fast-paced workplace settings.

Over 4 x half-days expert Proteus facilitators will deliver 4 virtual sessions that will take leaders through a process require to prepare and deliver powerful and persuasive communication pieces.

These sessions will be supported by a 1 hour launch, pre-program and 1.5 hour Program Review.

The learning outcomes are practical and can be applied immediately back into your workplace, by learning how to:

- Design presentations that are simple and work
- Lean into the fear and embrace challenging responses and audiences
- Enhance public presentation skills
- Craft a pitch for change that inspires action

“The Leadership Speak program demonstrated to me the power of first impressions, body language and framing messages to engage and give clarity around your objective. But more, it challenged me to put it into practice, time and time again, and the feedback from the presenters and my program colleagues was invaluable.”
