Embracing the IMPOSTOR SYNDROME

Transforming Moments of Self-Doubt

Except for narcissists, we all grapple with moments of feeling like an impostor. Unfortunately, at times, we can allow these moments to overwhelm us, hindering our progress and causing us to miss out on opportunities for leadership and growth.

Alternatively, we can recognise that these feelings don't make us fraudulent. Instead, we may simply be experiencing an 'impostor syndrome moment'. A very common part of everyone's journey - where there are important hidden truths that we need to learn from.
