A Multi-dimensional Approach To Leadership

“The program presenters personalised this experience for each of the participants and due to this fact, the program became an experience which was both confronting and relevant to the situation most of us currently find ourselves faced with. I took so much away from the experience which I believe will contribute to the further enrichment of my leadership skills and allow me to become more strategic in building succession planning within my current workplace.”

“This program was very informative. Having only limited experience in HR it was very beneficial to gain a greater understanding of that space and the overlap with a leadership role. Highly recommend.”

“Incredible program. So practical. I felt myself improve hugely as a presenter over the program. It was challenging and confronting but still enjoyable.”

Leadership Speak

“My previous experiences of leadership learning have focused on the theoretical. The Leadership By Design course was more practical and this in turn made it motivational. It was easy to see where I could apply the tools I was taught and I felt each tool had a place in my workplace experience. I’m keen to start making simple changes in my everyday to impact on my leadership style and my workplace.”
