Program Overview

This program looks at the destructive nature of daily distractions and the power of creating new positive transformational habits, including how to gain more energy and focus, while investigating the 'The E-Factor' – the four essential dimensions to increase your energy sources.

We will work on gaining clarity for leaders and their team by making sure the three critical areas of time effectiveness (KRAs, Frogs and the ABCDE method) are in place for sustainable success.

Time is constant and irreversible and nothing can substitute for time and once wasted, time can never be regained. The central shift is towards 'Time Effectiveness' by concentrating on results and not busyness and activity.
